Indigenous Supportive Housing Program (ISHP)

The Indigenous Supportive Housing Program (ISHP) is designed to be administered by Indigenous organizations for Indigenous people in need of housing and support services. Two funding streams under ISHP – the Base ISHP and Mental Health and Addictions (MHA) Funding – will enable Indigenous Housing Providers and/or Indigenous Support Service Agencies to provide housing assistance and support services or supportive housing to those experiencing homelessness and those at risk of homelessness.

Base ISHP

The Base ISHP funding stream service categories consist of Housing Assistance, Support Services and Administration. Housing assistance will be in the form of rent supplements (rent supplements are paid directly to the landlord by housing/service provider and are not portable). Support services will be individualized, flexible and ongoing e.g counselling, life skills training and will be provided in combination with housing assistance. Administration is for costs not directly related to delivery of supports e.g. office expenses.

Please see page 10 in the ISHP Program Guidelines 2022 for further details.

Base ISHP Eligibility Criteria – Recipients

Individuals will receive support services and housing assistance, which may include those in social housing and other forms of government-assisted housing at the time of entering program. Supports and housing assistance may be adjusted over time as individual's needs change.

Recipients must fall under one of more of the Provincial priority homelessness areas:

- Indigenous peoples experiencing homelessness or at risk of homelessness
- Chronic homelessness
- Youth homelessness
- Homelessness following transitions from provincially-funded institutions and service systems (e.g. hospitals and prisons).

Please see page 11 in the ISHP Program Guidelines 2022 for further details.

Base ISHP Eligible Expenses – Housing Assistance

Housing assistance will be in the form of rent supplements in combination with appropriate supports that will assist eligible recipients to obtain and retain stable housing. The housing assistance model should best meet the recipients needs and may include transitional and/or dedicated supportive housing.

Please see page 13 Operating Funding in the ISHP Program Guidelines 2022 for further details.

Base ISHP Eligible Expenses – Support Services

Health related supports that are not covered under MHA funding.

Life skills development and daily living supports such as budgeting; assistance with person care; daily living supports such as housekeeping, laundry, cooking, and shopping; assistance to access education, training employment or income support.

Culturally-relevant supports such as traditional supports and activities to increase cultural connections and sense of belonging in community, healing services e.g. healing circles, sweat lodges, and access to traditional medicines.

Other supports that are not covered under MHA funding and will assist individuals to obtain and retain housing and live as independently as possible in the community.

Please see page 14 Operating in the ISHP Program Guidelines 2022 for further details.

Base ISHP Minor Retrofits or Upgrades to Existing Supportive Housing Facilities

Total funding requests of up to $50,000

Please see page 14 Operating in the ISHP Program Guidelines 2022 for further details.

Mental Health and Addictions (MHA) Funding

The MHA stream service categories consist of Housing Assistance, Community Outreach and Support Services, Supportive Housing and Administration. Housing assistance will be in the form of rent supplements ((rent supplements are paid directly to landlord by housing/service provider and are not portable), short-term/emergency assistance and non-financial housing assistance. Community Outreach and Support Services refer to ongoing supports and services e.g., counselling, mental health and/or addictions supports.

Please see page 11 – MHA Stream Service Categories and page 14, bullet 1 under Eligible expenses, in the ISHP Program Guidelines 2022 for further details.

MHA Eligibility Criteria – Recipients

Individuals will receive support services and housing assistance to assist eligible recipients facing mental health and/or addictions issues to obtain and retain stable housing and access appropriate supports.

Recipients must fall under one of more of the Provincial priority homelessness areas:
